TOBINSPOUT FARMER IS MISSING

John Suddarth Left Home Wed. A. M. Mysteriously. Brother of Mrs. B. H. Parrish.

John Suddarth, a prominent and well known middle-aged farmer, has been missing since Wednesday morning from his home on his farm in the Millstone locality, between Cannelton and Tobinsport, and all effort upon the part of his relatives and neighbors to locate him have been in vain. Mr. Suddarth arose on Wednesday morning about five o'clock, as was his custom, and after starting the fire in the kitchen stove, he left the house. It was thought by his wife that he had gone to attend to the stock at the barn and nothing was thought of his absence until the usual time for him to come to breakfast had passed. A search about the barn and premises did not locate him and the members of the family knowing that he sometimes took his gun and went out hunting upon the farm before breakfast went to see if he had taken the gun. The gun and two loaded shells that were kept in the house in an accustomed place were gone.

After several hours had passed and the man did not return home a search of the farm and surrounding country was begun but no trace of him could be found. On Thursday Ed Suddarth, a brother, and Dr. White were in Cannelton making inquiries but no one had seen him here. No body in the vicinity of the Suddarth home had seen him and his sudden disappearance is proving a mystery to his family and friends. Mr. Suddarth was in his usual good-natured mood and if he had any trouble of any kind he kept it to himself. Nothing unusual was noticed about his conduct. Every foot of ground within several miles of the Suddarth farm has been carefully gone over and no trace of the missing man has been discovered. No cause can possibly be assigned as to why he would want to leave home.—Cannelton Enquirer.

The missing man has six children at home, and he is a brother of Mrs. B. H. Parrish, of Cloverport.

WHY GIRLS DON'T LEAVE HOME.

Miss Olivia Brown intended to go over to the Easter doings at Flint Lock Ridge church, Sunday, but found she didn't have enough face powder to last her morning half way there.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

355 PAIRS ARMY SHOES SOLD IN ONE DAY.

Buyers From Indiana and Adjoining Counties Get Army Goods.

The Golden Rule Store in this city made a record sale on army shoes Saturday. 420 pairs of shoes were received at the store on Friday afternoon late, and by Saturday evening only 65 pairs were left. There were buyers here from Cannelton, Tell City and Tobinsport, Ind., and from all parts of Hancock and Breckinridge counties. The shoes sell for $1.50 a pair.

Besides the shoe sale, 20 cases of roast beef and 10 cases of bacon were sold out of the army goods.

SCHOOL BOARD OFFICERS ELECTED

D. B. Phelps Re-elected Chairman. Whitehead and Bandy Will Succeed Keil and Behen.

The annual election of officers for the Cloverport Public school board was held Saturday evening. D. B. Phelps was re-elected chairman and Dr. B. H. Parrish secretary.

Messrs Charles Keil and Ira D. Behen, who are employees of the L. H. & St. L. R. R., and who were elected on the school board two weeks ago, had to decline their election owing to a state law which forbids railroad men from serving on a school board and at the same time using their transportation. Messrs. J. R. Bandy and Ed. Whitehead were elected by the members of the board to succeed Keil and Behen.

The next important meeting of the school board will be the election of teachers for the fall term which is to be held within a short time.

CROWD GREET THE FOUR GRADUATES

At Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday Evening, Dr. Williams, of Louisville, Preaches.

A crowded auditorium and Sunday school room greeted the four "sweet girl graduates" of 1920 class of the Cloverport High School on Sunday evening as they marched into the Methodist church for the baccalaureate sermon which marked the opening of commencement week.

Rev. Dr. T. N. Williams, of Louisville, pastor of the Lucile Memorial Presbyterian church here, delivered the sermon. Dr. Williams first noticed the absence of boys among the graduates and he deplored the fact that more boys did not complete their high school education. He commended the four young girls for their perseverance, and added that they would be the last class to be graduated from this school before women were granted equal rights with men. Dr. Williams' address was inspirational to all of his hearers.

Mr. Galloway, superintendent of the Cloverport Public School, publicly announced the Class Day exercises on Tuesday evening in the Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock and the commencement on Friday evening in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock.

FIRE LOSS REACHES NEARLY $7,000

Judge Henry Moorman Loses 2 Barns, Silo and 10 Head Cattle. Origin Unknown.

Fire of unknown origin consumed two large stock barns and a silo belonging to Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, Sunday night at 8 o'clock on his farm which was formerly the old county fair grounds near Hardinsburg. The total loss is estimated between $6,000 and $7,000, with insurance of $2,000.

Judge Moorman suffered the loss of eight head of mules and 2 cows, and a total loss of farming implements, wagons, hay and corn. He was at his home in Hardinsburg and was notified of the fire by his tenants.

The blaze spread so rapidly that the tenants on the farm were not aware of the fire until the buildings were all one mass of flames and too late to save any of the stock.

Since his return from overseas, Judge Moorman has been devoting most of his time to farming and he was practically just getting established with stock and farming implements. The barns were built from the stables used for the stock brought to the county fairs.

RAISE MORE THAN QUOTA.

The finance committee of the Breckinridge county Baptist Association reports $7,500 collected for the 75 Million Campaign from the churches in this association. The quota was $7,000 and the entire sum was raised in five months.

DELEGATES TO SO. BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Breckinridge and Ohio Counties Well Represented.

Breckinridge and Ohio counties will be well represented at the Southern Baptist Convention which convenes in Washington, D. C. on May 12 and continues until the 17th.

Those who went Monday from Breckinridge county were: Rev. E. B. English and Mrs. English, of Hardinsburg; Rev. Harvey English, Ammons; Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Richardson, Garfield; R. G. Robertson, Glen Dean; Misses Rosa Lou and Meda Ditto, of Irvington. From Ohio county representing the Fordsville Baptist church were: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wilson and daughter, Miss Mary Nancy Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Westerfield, Rev. R. L. Brandenburg and Miss Martha Albert Quisenberry.

LIFE CLOSING FOR A YOUNG MOTHER

Mrs. Edward Nichols, 26 Years Old Succumbs As Result of Influenza.

Mrs. Emma Kate Nichols, wife of Edward Nichols, passed away at 4:45 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Lane, and Mr. Lane, in the West End. Her death was due to the effects of influenza. Mrs. Nichols was taken ill at her home in Evansville and three weeks ago she was brought here by her husband for treatment, but her condition was so critical that little hope was held for her recovery.

Mrs. Nichols was the daughter of Mr. Geo. A. Wilson, of Evansville, and formerly of Cloverport. She was born in this city August 10, 1894, and was bereft of a mother in childhood. She was converted and joined the Cloverport Methodist church in 1916. On June 30, 1913, she was married to Mr. Edward Nichols and to this union two children were born, Edna Catherine, who is now 6 years old and Carl Edward, age 2. Mrs. Nichols was a devoted mother and wife, and a devout christian.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Lane home, conducted by Rev. J. R. Randolph. The burial was in the Cloverport cemetery.

Surviving are the husband and two children; four sisters, Mrs. Lane, of this city, Mrs. James May, Mrs. Willie Mattingly, and Mrs. Ed Miller, all of Evansville; two brothers Chris Wilson, of Evansville and Geo. Wilson, of Quincy, Ill.

ATTENDANCE FEW AT CIRCUIT COURT

Farmers Busy at Home While Weather is Fair. Jurors Panned First Day.

Fair and sunny weather kept the farmers at home Monday, and the first day of Circuit Court in the county lacked its usual crowd. The belated spring has put the farmers behind with their crops hence those who were not summoned to serve on the juries stayed at home and "made hay while the sun was shining."

Judge J. R. Layman, of Elizabethtown, arrived in Hardinsburg on Sunday afternoon and was on hand bright and early Monday morning to preside. The first day was consumed in empanelling the jury and calling the commonwealths docket.

On the Grand Jury are: J. B. Herndon, foreman, Joe Brown, L. D. Gilpin, B. W. Carter, Wm. Seaton, Oval Frank, F. C. Whitehouse, J. R. Keenan, G. R. Compton, J. D. Aldridge, R. T. Lampton and G. O. Blanford.

Petit Jury: Vessie Drape, H. W. Gross, Roscoe Brown, Vermont Robbins, J. H. Harrington, L. V. Chapin, Wm. H. Jordan, Carl Sherron, J. H. Sparrow, Tice Hendrick, Geo. T. Holmes, J. B. Haynes, R. H. Cook, B. B. Critchloe, John A. Carman, Nat Roberts, Evley Kinneson, Geo. L. Medler, J. B. Gibson, G. H. Board, W. G. Shrewsbury, Rafe Wheatley and R. H. Smith.

APPLE SPRAYING DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD IN COUNTY 19TH AND 20TH.

Mr. H. R. Niswonger, specialist in Horticulture will hold a spraying demonstration in Mr. McCoy's orchard, Harned, Ky., on the afternoon of May 19th, in the application of arsenate of lead, used in the control of the apple worm and bordeaux mixture for the control of early infestation of the apple blotch, a very serious disease infesting the fruit. The following day, May 20th, Mr. Niswonger will be in Hardinsburg to put on the spray in Dr. Squire's orchard in the morning and Mr. Callahan's orchard in the afternoon.

Much pride and interest is being shown by the owners of these orchards in the care and treatment that the orchards are receiving and the orchards have been improved 100 per cent in looks already. Visit the orchards on the day set for the spraying demonstrations, and learn proper methods of spraying.

CELEBRATES 90TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY WITH 4 GENERATIONS PRESENT.

Stephensport, May 10. (Special)—Mesdames Chas. Tinius, Chas. Maysey and Lewis Stewart entertained a number of their relatives to a dinner last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stewart, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Elizabeth Basham, Mrs. Chas Maysey and Mrs. L. L. Stewart.

Four generations were represented and fourteen partaking of the bounteous feast. Mrs. Basham, who had that day reached her 90th mile stone, walked to the home of her niece and enjoyed the occasion as much as her great great grandchildren.

REV. NALL CALLED BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor of Ravenna Church Will Accept Pastorate in Cloverport.

Rev. D. C. Nall, of Ravenna, Ky., has been called to the pastorate of the Cloverport Baptist church by a vote of the members at a business meeting of the church held last Wednesday evening.

Rev. Nall preached here on trial several weeks ago, and met with great favor by the majority of the congregation. He has accepted the call and is expected here upon his return from the Southern Baptist Convention which convenes in Washington, D. C., May 10th to 13th.

The local church has been without a pastor since the resignation of Rev. A. N. Couch last fall.

BEAUTIFUL LIFE CLOSED IN DEATH

Mrs. Alice Crawford, Beloved Woman, Stephensport, Died at Home of Her Niece.

Stephensport, May 10. (Special)—On May 6, 1920 at 6:30 o'clock at the home of her niece, Mrs. O. W. Dowell, the spirit of Mrs. Alice Crawford passed from earth to heaven to be with her loved ones, and with Him who redeemed her.

Mrs. Crawford has been in feeble health for several years prior to her death, which was like one going to sleep. One week ago she was stricken with paralysis and the faithful ones watched by the bedside, as though she had fallen asleep, but she never regained consciousness, it was that sleep which knows no waking. There was no dark valley, only— "Beautiful hands at the gateway tonight."

Faces all shining with "radiant light, Eyes looking down from your Heavenly homes"

Beautiful, beautiful beckoning come." Mrs. Crawford was born in Breckinridge county and a daughter of Wm. and Mary Moorman. She professed faith in Christ, as her Savior at an early age and lived the true christian life to her death, always a member of the Baptist church. In all life's relationships she was a simple, earnest, sincere and beautiful soul, being loved and honored by all who knew her. She had no children of her own, but reared two, Mrs. A. S. Johnson and Andrew R. Crawford, both surviving her with two brothers, Dr. A. Moorman of Lexington, who was present and Cliff Moorman, of Hillsboro, Texas, who was unable to get here. Her husband having preceded her in death on May 20th, 1913.

The funeral was held at the Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock, on Friday by the Rev. H. S. English, after which the remains were laid beside those of her husband.

LICENSE PENDING LEGAL ACTION

City Council Raises License to $100 on Poultry House But Holds it up for Legality.

Mayor John A. Barry called the City Council together Friday night on a special call to take up the license tax on the wholesale poultry house here by request of several citizens unjust, and would drive farm trade who claimed the license of $100 was from Cloverport. The meeting drew a larger crowd out that night than has been at a council meeting for some time.

Mayor Barry made a statement that the ordinance had only been posted and not a law, and the only way it could be amended was for some of the council who had voted for the ordinance to make a motion to reconsider it, but members of the council refused to do this and the ordinance will be taken to court to test the legality of it. In order not to interfere with the produce that was fast accumulating a motion was made sustained by the council to allow the poultry house and merchants to continue their business as here-tofore, as no enforcement would be made pending legal action.

The Poultry House here is operated by Armour & Co., incorporated, of Chicago, and the company boasts that it does a $40,000 to $50,000 business here annually but it only lists $375 worth of stock, which consists of empty egg cases and coops and about $68 worth butter, eggs, cream and poultry; the rest of the stock when in coops, cases etc., are in transit and cannot be taxed. Therefore the city council thought it was justly entitled to derive some benefit of this business as all local business concerns are taxed by city, county and state. Armour and Company's wholesale Poultry House here only pays taxes, amounting to about $2.37.

NEW AIR DOME HAD FIRST SHOW MONDAY EVENING.

Cloverport's new Air Dome is ready and had its first moving picture show on Monday evening with a fairly good attendance. The Air Dome takes the place of the Lafayette Skydome of last summer. Mr. Beavin, the manager, has equipped the open air theatre with new seats, a new player-piano, and a new motion picture machine in a fire-proof enclosure. It has a seating capacity of 250.

Mr. Beavin states that he intends to have only the very best pictures, and he will have a serial number once a week.

MRS. MCGARY'S DEATH SUDDEN

Widow of J. H. McGary, Hardinsburg, Succumbs After a Few Hours Illness.

Mrs. Bertha McGary, widow of J. H. McGary, died at her late home in Hardinsburg, Saturday morning at 1:15 o'clock. Mrs. McGary was apparently in good health, and she ate supper with her family that evening and was stricken ill suddenly a short time afterwards. Her death was caused from euremic poison.

The funeral was held Sunday morning in St. Romaulds church, Rev. Father J. F. Knue said the requiem mass. The interment followed in the St. Romaulds cemetery.

Mrs. McGary was a native of Marion county, Kentucky, and moved to Hardinsburg in early childhood. She was 72 years old, and was married 40 years ago to Mr. J. H. McGary, deceased. At the time of her death Mrs. McGary lived with her two daughters, Misses Fanny and Esther McGary, who survive.

Bred Gilts for Sale

BRED TO FARROW IN APRIL

When you can save all the pigs, these gilts are good individuals of the very best breeding that I have been able to buy at any price, and bred to a son of Black Price the 1918 Grand Champion of the world and Big Uncle Sam by Big Buster by Giant Buster, The Epoch Maker, the latter hog is the largest boar that I have ever seen for his age and I have looked over some of the very best ones. These hogs are priced right, regular breeders stuff at farmers prices that we can all afford to pay.

If you want a herd boar that will put you in the limelight, a real boar, a son of Black Price, this is breeding that you cannot find anywhere else at three times the price that I am asking for him a great pig for some one that needs him at a bargain. This pig is right for hard service about eleven months old.

Doing "The Impossible"

"Doing the Impossible" is the caption of a very interesting article in a recent copy of System, and it tells of a wonderful change brought about in the city of Salem, Washington, by the merchants working together and how they organized a Chamber of Commerce. Since a movement has been started in Cloverport to re-organize the Commercial Club, this article may prove an inspiration to the citizens.

If those merchants out in Salem can accomplish "the impossible," the merchants of Cloverport can too.

Read this:

"Just a few years ago Salem, Washington, did comparatively little to draw business from the nearby farms. But now Salem and its farmers work together. Here's how the change was effected.

"Formerly, the farmers bought most of their supplies from distant cities and disposed of their garden truck in a large town 100 miles away. Vegetables raised within five miles of Salem went first to the town down the line and then came back to the Salem merchants with the original price almost doubled.

"Then some of the progressive merchants got together; among them they formed a plan. First they went out among the farmers and persuaded them, as an experiment, to drive into town during the late spring and summer and dispose of their vegetables at an open-air market. A few came and the housewives, attracted by the unheard-of prices, snapped up everything that was offered. More and more of the farmers came and made purchases.

Soon a better feeling sprang up between the town people and the farmers and trade developed between them.

Rainy weather alone seriously interfered with the plan. It kept the farmers away and drove the town people back to paying high prices again.

The merchants saw a way to beat the weather man. They formed a company and built a market house, sheds and stalls and concrete flooring. The farmer coming to market could either rent a stall or he could sell his produce to the merchant's company. The price paid for truck thus sold were determined each day by a representative of the farmers and the manager of the company. They were posted in a conspicuous place on a bulletin board so that a farmer coming to the market could tell at once exactly what his load was worth and sell it without higgling about prices.

The market became more and more popular and the profits to the company waxed correspondingly larger and larger. The merchants persuaded the farmers to bank a goodly share of the receipts in a separate fund and within two years they had enough money to erect a clubhouse where the farmers and their wives went to rest. They met their friends there and cooked what they liked in the kitchen attached to the house; consequently the price of living was greatly reduced in Salem.

Then they turned their attentions to other improvements. As a preliminary, they decided that there must be some permanent town-betterment organization which would include the leaders of the place and give to anything it undertook an impetus and an authority that would be impossible for only a few individuals to accomplish by themselves.

How They Organized A Chamber Of Commerce.

They had read of a recently formed Chamber of Commerce in a neighboring town and what it had accomplished. They made up their minds that they would give Salem such an organization whether it wanted it or not. They took the men who had gone into the market scheme as a nucleus. They held meetings, got the ministers and the bank interested, and their doings.

The first thing they improved was persuaded the local editor to write up roads. They found that they had a tremendous force behind them; they so stirred up the town that at the next election the township voted to issue bonds. Before the residents knew it, almost, they had macadamized highways and concrete gutters along the main streets.

They next went after a new high-school building and got it. They brought the water system down from the late 70's and obtained a recreation park on the outskirts of Salem, which proved so attractive to workers and their families that it led directly to the establishment of a new factory in the town.

In a few years a marvelous change came over Salem. The new Main Street was a thing to be proud of. Before-and-after photographs were already being shown on picture post-cards. The new generation no longer referred to it as a pokey town, and high-school students lingered there after they had completed their courses instead of leaving for other cities.

"They made the city a go—a good place to live in. They made it up to date and tolerated no backwardness. They changed it from a dormant village into a thriving city—and they are making it bigger and more prosperous every year. They put it on the map—people know where Salem is and why it has developed so fast.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN 1919 GREATLY EXCEEDED
THOSE OF 1918.

Reports received by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, from the building officials of 114 of the larger cities in the country show that building operations in 1919 greatly exceed those in 1918, both in number and cost. The number of permits issued or buildings erected in these 114 cities in 1919 was 309,551, as compared with 173,635 in 1918, an increase of 135,916 or 78 per cent. The cost of the operations in 1919 was $1,140,817,691 as compared with $369,232,315 in 1918, an increase of $771,585,376 or 206 per cent. If the operations in the remaining cities from which the Geological Survey usually receives statistics of building operations show a proportionate increase the number of permits issued or buildings erected in 1919 was about 377,000 which would cost about $1,300,000,000, so that the record for 1919 was the highest yet reached in the building industries in these cities in both the number and the cost of operations. The year of the next highest record was 1916, when 374,761 operations were reported, which cost $1,046,276,549. The average cost per operation in the cities which have so far reported for 1919 was $2,127 in 1918 and $3,653 in 1919.

OVERSEAS SOLDIER IS BURIED IN IRVINGTON.

Irvington, May 10. (Special)—The remains of Roy Dowell arrived here Sunday evening from overseas. He died two years ago at a camp in France from influenza and pneumonia.

He was the son of Mrs. Tebe Dowell. His body was laid to rest in Cedar Hill cemetery on Monday afternoon.

FOOD IN AMERICA NOT GOOD, SAYS DUCHESS.

Paris, May 7.—American food, as served in restaurants in that country, did not favorably impress the Duchess of Clermont-Tonnerre who visited the United States last autumn and has written a book on her trip. Americans do not consider eating seriously enough, she indicated and trying to "simplify the performance." The only American foods that appear to have made an appeal to the Duchess were red bananas, California apples and oranges and "hams of Virginia."

"One must admit," she says in her book, "that food in America is not good. To a Frenchman the word 'meal' cannot be applied to the bolting of a club sandwich in five or six bites while standing before a lunch-con bar. The necessity of eating seems to have become for Americans a sort of monotonous and obligatory annoyance and they are bending all endeavors toward simplifying the performance."

The Duchess says she "is unable to comprehend why an American should require less time for his whole lunch than one of her countrymen needs to merely scan the wine list," and continues.

"American butter is poor and American cheese cannot be eaten. American chickens are emaciated and scrawny and one has the feeling it is a cruelty to put a knife in them. All American dishes have passed through cold storage and are insipid."

CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE

Mr. Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, announces his candidacy for the United States Senate in this issue. Read his announcement. It will give you a good idea of the man and his work. He is not only an active Republican and a party man but has other qualities that go to make a good citizen. He is a great philanthropic worker, and a gracious giver of his means. He lives in churches, and gives to all denominations liberally; he was active in every form of war work and had a son in France.

Our advice to our Republican friends is that they could not do better than to nominate Mr. Ernst for this high office.

ANNOUNCEMENT

For some time past it has been known to many of my Republican friends throughout the State that I would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

I now desire to make public announcement of that fact.

I keenly appreciate the responsibility and importance of this high position, and, in the event of my election, I will give to the duties of this office the best there is in me and will represent the people of Kentucky and of the United States to the best of my ability.

I desire, also, to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the many Republicans throughout the State who have, without solicitation on my part, so kindly and generously offered me their support.

Richard P. Ernst,
Covington, Ky. May 10, 1920.—Adv.

A STORY FOR BOYS.

Tuesday, April 27, was the anniversary birthday of one of America's late Presidents, General U. S. Grant, a brief sketch of his life is given herewith which was written by a well known American merchant, John Wanamaker. Read what all Grant did when a mere boy and note that he also attended school.

This is the anniversary birthday of General Ulysses Simpson Grant, who was nicknamed "Useless" when a schoolboy. Born in a two-room cabin in 1822, when he was seven years old that small boy's love for horses made horses love him so that he could manage the team that hauled the firewood for the farmhouse and his father's tannery.

In one of his own memoris he wrote these words:

"When I was seventeen I did all the work on the farm that could be done with horses, ploughing for corn and potatoes, tending the cows, and sawed the wood for the house."

And He Also Attended School.

He is said to have been a short, stocky boy, with brownish hair, freckled and had gray-blue, kindly eyes.

He loved animals and made pets of them, so that they did anything he wished.

In his boyhood he was a little man of whom his father was proud because he was always doing something useful instead of being "useless."

He went to West Point Military Academy, reaching there on the 26th day of May, 1839, and slept on the floor in an upper room of the old North Barracks.

The West Pointers, seeing his name registered "U. S. Grant," jollied him and renamed him "United States" Grant and "Uncle Sam" Grant.

The boys, who made up their own beds, scrubbed the floor and cleaned up had no thought that that stubby, silent chap among them was to be the President of the United States for eight years (two terms.)

After the war General Grant lived in Philadelphia, and with a friendship for the writer, stopped almost every morning on his way to see and talk about curious old Grand Depot Store.

Idle as he was at that time, he was half ready to come in with us and be the Commander-in-Chief. Our boss was particularly proud of General Grant's good-will and his prophecies of the future of this business, which meant so much when the young fellow needed friends for the new enterprise.

This piece is written mainly for the growing-up boys, who will by and by begin new and better things in their home cities. (Signed)

John Wanamaker, Apr. 27, 1920.

DO'S AND DON'TS

Put aside part of your income for future use; don't spend every dollar as soon as it is earned.

Make every penny buy a penny's worth of something really needed; don't buy useless things of no value.

Invest wisely; don't speculate.

Use with care what money buys; don't be wasteful and destructive.

Figure out what each item of the family expenditures requires—rent, food, light, heat, clothing, school, charity, doctor, pleasure, etc.; don't do guess-work and trust to make both ends meet.

Pay as you buy; don't open numberless charge accounts.

Pay bills monthly; don't let worry go hand in hand with unpaid bills.

Set your own standards; don't ape the extravagance of others.

Buy only what you have the money to pay for; don't run into debt.

Beauty Chats

LONG LASHES

LONG, thick eyelashes are to be desired not only because of their own beauty and the added character they lend the eye, but because they afford so much protection to the eye itself. They sift the dust from the air, minimizing the chances of getting painful particles into the eye, they shade the eye from strong lights and protect the sensitive nerves of sight. Long lashes are comparatively easy to acquire. The first thing to do is to clip the lashes back a trifle, using fine embroidery or manicure scissors with the points held away from the eye. This is a delicate task, better done by some other person. Yet, if you lean close to the mirror you can do it yourself. The lash on both the upper and under lid should be clipped. This will make them grow in longer and thicker, too.

Long lashes are one of the greatest attributes of beauty.

The eyebrows, too, will benefit by clipping, but this is something most women would hesitate about, as the short hairs would show more readily than on the lashes. Vaseline is about the best thing to use as a tonic, and is always the chief ingredient of expensive preparations.

The lashes should be clipped back once a month for at least three months. By this time, in connection with the use of a tonic, they will have sufficient stimulation to grow thick and long.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES BIG SUM TO CHURCH.

New York, April 29.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wired a gift of $2,000,000 today for the New World Movement, of Northern Baptists in this city as a contribution to their campaign for $100,000,000, which opened last Sunday. Half of the gift is donated outright, while $1,000,000 is given provisionally.

Five hundred thousand dollars of the second half is to be added to the fund when it reaches $62,500,000 and the remainder when the $87,500,000 mark is passed.

This is Mr. Rockefeller's second gift to the movement as previously he had given $450,000 to the Inter-church World Movement.

The Northern Baptists are participating in the $336,000,000 campaign of the Inter-church Movement.

GRAND-DAUGHTER OF MRS. CARSON'S BURIED HERE.

The remains of Virginia Lee Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams, of Evansville, arrived here Tuesday morning on the 9:15 o'clock train and were taken directly to the Cloverport cemetery for burial. She was eighteen months old and the grand-daughter of Mrs. John Carson, and Mr. Carson, of this city. Death was caused from measles followed by pneumonia.

"MOTHER'S DAY" OBSERVED BY BOTH OLD AND YOUNG.

"Mothers Day" was appropriately observed in Cloverport on Sunday with a special service in the Methodist church at the eleven o'clock hour and honor was paid by both old and young to the living mothers by the wearing of a colored flower, while the memory of the heavenly mother was honored with the white flowers. There were some who wore small American flags by request of the National Mothers Day committee.

A MESSAGE TO YOU FROM ARMENIA.

Tula C. Daniel.

People will ask "Did we not have a campaign last year for this same cause?" To be sure we did and thanks are extended to all who contributed. "What was the object of the previous campaign?" To save as many as possible from death by starvation. That is just why there is another campaign now; because so many are still alive, due to your magnificent charity, and we cannot let them starve now, after having saved them last year and for three years previous.

Kentucky and Tennessee have the orphanage at Aleppo for their share in this Near East Relief Crusade of Compassion. Thousands and thousands of orphans, their fathers slain in battle, their mothers carried off to Turkish harems, are left to our tender mercies.

Mr. Vickery, the National Secretary writing one of our citizens says "the war is not over in the Near East relief. Conditions are much the same as they were before the Armistice except where they are worse many little children have but a single garment to protect them from the bitter cold of the plateau in the mountain country. Thousands of refugees perished last winter. We would hesitate to even try and relieve such frightful conditions but for the continued support of large-hearted people like yourself." This is written to one who has not only given once but twice or thrice. The Lord bless him and his household! Miss Higgins says, "Humanity has no limit. It reaches to the end of the world and even to the world beyond."

She says: "To adopt an orphan is sometimes considered quite a job for an individual but to adopt 250,000 is the job of a nation, and a great one, and that is the very job which the United States is going to undertake if the drive for Near East Relief ends as successfully as it started."

"The scheme is unique; it stirs the imagination for one nation to adopt and support the entire child life of another nation which is six thousand miles away. It marks a new era in the history of philanthropy."

Irvine citizens sent us a check for $81.80 and Mr. C. H. Claycomb sent us an offering of $2.50. This brings the total for Breckinridge so far up to $1,045.35.

And still there's more to follow. What about your town?

Perhaps some are reading this who do not know that $60.00 per year will support, educate, house, clothe, feed one pitiful waif in the Near East.—That is only $5.00 per month, you know. Some could give $25.00 per year, some $20.00, some $15.00, $10.00 or $5.00. Our county treasurer for Mr. B. F. Beard, Asst. Cashier, Hardinsburg Bank. Call on him, or mail this Near East Relief Crusade is him your check, or to me as chairman of the work in Breckinridge.

I asked Mr. Shallcross, the National Committee representative when here, as to a report of a very exaggerated salary paid to our state director. He declared it untrue. "No worker receives such a salary—Not even men with families to support." I mean no Near East Relief worker. Take much that you hear, "Cum grano."

WHITE COLLAR MEN.

The white collar men Who push at a pen And click the typewriter keys Have come to the fore With a one hundred score In perilous times like these.

They're a trifle raw. Some might pick a flaw In the way they shovel coal. Or throw a switch. Or give brakes to a twitch; But somehow they reach the goal.

So wheels turn, a few. And some cars get through. And we don't stand still or quit; And the milk and the mail Some way don't fail— It's the work of men of grit.

All the honors, then, To the white collar men! They renew our faith in the breed, As of who averred, "When I give my word You can bank that it is my deed!" —Maurice Morris, in N. Y. Sun and Herald.

COMRADES.

Faithful zealous little buddy, You were always close to me, Close in every hour of danger As we fought across the sea.

You were always my companion In the watches of the night, In the cold mud in the trenches, In the perils of the fight.

When in No-Man's Land I ventured, And I prayed to Heaven to guide, When the star shells burst above us, You were always at my side.

When I lay chilled and unsheltered, In the cold and soaking rain, You were with me, always busy, Making me forget my pain.

For you never left me lonely, Always was your presence near; And I never will forget you, Little Cootie, Cootie, dear! —Theodore J. Glines, Roxbury.

Local Church News

The all-day missionary meeting held in the Methodist church on Monday was the most enjoyable and interesting church affair of the season. The June program was substituted for that of May meeting making the discussion include the topic "The Negro in the New Working World." The Social Service Superintendent, Mrs. D. B. Phelps had the program well in hand.

An hour in the forenoon was given to the transaction of regular business and presentation and discussion of the monthly bulletin.

A bountiful and tastefully prepared luncheon was served at the noon hour. Seated at the head and foot of the table were two active charter members of the society, Mrs. A. R. Fisher and Mrs. Cornelia W. Fraize. These ladies joined when Miss Mary Helm organized the society about forty years ago.

In the afternoon the mission study class presented the book studied the past quarter, "Christian Americanization," each member giving her chapter in her own style and manner. Folk songs and hymns were interspersed by different members, and two of these were given by members of the choir of the Colored Methodist choir.

A reading, "The Crucified" by Miss Tula Babbage and a dialogue by Miss Margaret Burn and Mrs. E. M. Wedding on "Our Work With the Negro" were much enjoyed. Three or four new members were added to the roll. Mrs. R. B. Pierce, another charter member, sang one of her girlhood songs. Mr. Oscar Holder rendered some valuable service in making the women comfortable and also sent a treat of some candy at the close of the day.

A letter was read from Miss Tarrant, of Szechow, China, telling of the bright little boy Sung-Tsia Siang who is being educated on the Ella B. Moorman scholarship of the Cloverport society.

HILL ITEMS

There will preaching at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning by Dr. T. N. Williams. Rev. J. R. Randolph of the Methodist church will conduct the union service in the evening.

MODERN NURSERY TALK.

Hamilton Fisher, Armstrong in New York Evening Post.

The culture of the child, I fear, is really most complex; Just how to practice all I hear And still not bore the little dear Would any mother vex!

The ideal food, says Dr. Twit, Is half a marrow bone; Some parsnips and an apple-pit Will also keep the baby fit— Will give him vim and tone.

The child's advancement must be slow Until it reaches eight; "He must not read," "She must not sew."

For if they do their legs will bow, Their hair will come in straight.

Nurse does not dress him on her knee, Lest she his skin might touch— My newest doctor said to me That every child of course should be Dressed in a patent Clutch.

My child's religion must be quite A thing of inclination; Saint Athanasius and Bouck White Are all brought to the calcium light For his investigation.

The problems, raised by Adam's fall, Our Ouija brotherhood, Transmigratory theories—all These I expound to little Paul To make him wise and good.

CHURCHES WANT BUILDING LOANS

404 More Applications Made This Year Than Last. Bishop M. Murry Head of Board.

Seven hundred and forty churches have made application to the Board of Extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, for building loans, this year. $600,000 is available by the Board for immediate distribution on loans, but the applications amounted to more than $2,000,000.

At a meeting of the Extension Board held Friday in the offices of the board on Fourth street, Louisville, Bishop W. F. McMurry, of St. Louis, was elected president to succeed T. L. Jefferson. Rev. S. H. C. Burgin was elected secretary to succeed Rev. Dr. H. A. Boaz, who resigned to accept the presidency of the Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas. There were five other candidates for the secretaries position.

Chairman of the Loan Committee announced that loans up to $50,000 would be made, dollar for dollar, on amounts raised by negro Methodists Episcopal churches for building purposes.

HON. RICHARD P. ERNST.

ERNST ENTERS SENATE RACE

CANDIDATE NOTED FOR EXTENSIVE CHARITY WORK

EDUCATOR AND "Y" LEADER

Ardent Supporter of Movement
To Wipe Out Illiteracy

It is hardly necessary to introduce Richard P. Ernst, whose candidacy for the United States Senate has just been announced, to the average Kentuckian.

His name has appeared throughout the state in connection with charitable movements, war campaigns, church and missionary work and drives to aid the schools and school teachers, especially in the mountain districts.

His charitable work, aggressiveness and progressiveness in civic movements and personal popularity have made him one of the most generally admired men in Northern Kentucky.

His extensive work in the interests of his state and its people began immediately upon Mr. Ernst's graduation from the famous Old Centre College, Danville, where he was valedictorian of his class.

Admitted to Bar.

He was admitted to the bar in Kenton county after examination by Senator John W. Stevenson and Judge William R. Arthur and since has practiced law in Covington and Cincinnati with the same aggressiveness and success that have featured every movement worth while into which he has directed his efforts.

Glancing over the long list of his activities one can see that he continually has enlisted himself in movements in which he could accomplish best results for the people.

As trustee and a member of the Executive Committee of Old Centre College, Kentucky State University at Lexington, and of Pikeville College, his excellent advice and assistance in matters of importance have been extremely beneficial to the students.

Wars On Illiteracy.

Recently he has taken a deep interest in the campaign teachers are waging for increased salaries and has been taking active steps to secure better pay both for the teachers of the state and for the professors in our colleges and universities. The mountain schools especially appeal to him and he has been an ardent supporter of the movement to wipe out illiteracy and to offer residents of the mountain districts better facilities for education.

Mr. Ernst's continuous help has been received by the churches of the state, regardless of denomination. He is an elder and succeeded his father as superintendent of the Sunday-school, their terms of service covering a period of nearly 80 years. He has been looking after educational and missionary work in the mountains, as chairman of the State Committee of his church, and has succeeded in more than doubling the amount heretofore given for this purpose.

And his work does not end there. He is president of the Covington Y. M. C. A. and a member of the National War Council. As head of the Y. M. C. A. he has been mainly instrumental in erecting one of the most complete and modern buildings to be found.

Son in Active Service.

He was active in every form of war work and gave continuously of his time, labor and money, whenever called upon. His only son was serving at the front in France, as a captain in the regular army, when the armistice was signed. He had entered the army as a private during the Mexican trouble and later passed his examinations at Washington, winning a second lieutenantcy. Mr. Ernst's son-in-law, John P. Darnall, of Flemingsburg, volunteered as a private and also was in active service at the front.

His wide and extensive business and professional experiences, as counselor and advisor to many large financial and manufacturing concerns, has been of unlimited value to his state and community, as he has been called upon many times to give advice when matters of big moment were being considered.

Mr. Ernst's record of service in the Republican party is a long one.

Good Republican Record.

Beginning as Councilman in Covington, he was kept in office by members of both parties until he insisted on retiring. For many years he was on the State Central Committee and for four years served as its chairman. He has represented his district a number of times at National Conventions and also has been one of the "Big Four" from his state. It was he, who, while state chairman, established state headquarters at Louisville, since continuously maintained by the party. He also has been a liberal financial supporter of the party during all three years and one of its wise counselors.

Mr. Ernst's father was William Ernst, a banker at Lexington, subsequently Covington. His mother was Sarah A. Butler, a Jessamine county girl.

It was through Mr. Ernst's instrumentality that the Covington Industrial Club was developed and through his efforts that the campaign to erect a magnificent headquarters for this remarkable civic organization was successful.

GETS RID OF HER TROUBLES AT 75

"Tanlac is Certainly a Fine Medicine For Elderly People," She Says.

Among the many Kentucky people who have recently testified to the powers of Tanlac is Mrs. Nannie Chappell, residing at 3724 Old Third street, Louisville, who in relating her experience said:

"I am now seventy-five years of age, but I doubt if there are many women that old who feel any better than I do since taking Tanlac. Why, during all the years of my life I have never seen or heard of a medicine to equal it, for a few bottles have relieved me of a case of rheumatism, nervousness and indigestion that had troubled me for twenty-three years. Sometimes my lower limbs hurt me so bad I couldn't walk and at times my arms pained me so I couldn't raise my hands to comb my hair. I had several attacks every year and while they were on me I could neither get up or down without help. Many a time I got so nervous I would shake like a leaf and just dreaded to see night come, for it was impossible for me to sleep. My appetite left me, too, and everything I ate disagreed with me.

"Finally I got so bad off with this rheumatism that I couldn't stay on my feet any longer. While I was down in bed my son, who is a passenger engineer on the Louisville and Nashville railroad came to see me and said, 'Mother you remember how I suffered so long with stomach trouble and could hardly eat at all, and lost weight and thought I would have to quit work. Well, you see me now weighing two hundred and fifteen pounds, and in such a good condition that I can eat pork or anything else I want and my health just perfect. Tanlac did this for me and I'm going to get you a bottle.' So he did and almost as soon as I began taking it I felt better. In a few days I had a good appetite and was able to get out of bed. I have taken three bottles of Tanlac now and am feeling like a different person. Every sign of the rheumatism is gone and I am not only able to sleep soundly every night but I usually take a nap during the day. Tanlac is certainly a fine medicine for old people and I will gladly tell anyone personally just what it has done for me."

"Tanlac is sold in Cloverport at Wedding's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

An Accurate Corn Planter Is One of Your Best Friends

The Accurate Drop Corn Planter

The real reason for using a corn planter is to save time. However, if the planter is not accurate, it would pay better to plant by hand. Accuracy in a corn planter means uniform drop—the desired number of kernels in each and every hill. If the planter is not accurate, a loss in yield will result.

Accuracy in planting has been the main object in designing the John Deere No. 999 Corn Planter. The advantage of using this planter is that with proper handling it will plant two, three or four kernels in the hill, as desired. Everyone of these machines is rigidly inspected before leaving the factory.

The seed-dropping device on this planter is an improvement over all other seed-dropping devices. The John Deere No. 999 is equipped with John Deere Natural Cell Fill, Edge Delivery Seed Plates. The surface of the hopper bottom and the openings to the seed cells are oblique or sloping. The weight of the corn in the hopper causes the seed to move toward and enter the cells of the seed plate in its natural position. The kernels do not have to be tipped on edge, and, therefore, each cell is filled readily.

The Full Variable Drop Planter

The John Deere No. 999 Planter has a variable drop consisting of a train of gears constantly in mesh. With this device, two, three or four kernels can be planted as desired merely by shifting the foot lever. The gears are enclosed in an oil-tight case, and it never is necessary to remove them from this case, which is dust-proof.

The driving mechanism has this advantage over the ordinary—it never is separated. Other devices open and close at every action of the fork by the wire and are constantly being released under strain, causing considerable wear and reducing the life of the most important parts of the planter. The device on the John Deere No. 999 Planter can be shifted at any time in the travel of the machine.

The John Deere No. 999 is a real variable drop planter—it varies the distance in drilling as well as the number of kernels per hill in hilling, and gives a greater variety of distances without the use of extra sprockets and plates.

All corn plates on this planter have 16 cells; therefore, the same drilling distances can be obtained as on planters having 8, 12 and 16-cell plates, and without the change of plates.

Hilling or Drilling

Change from hilling to drilling or back to hilling is made instantly. No extra attachments or extra tools are required. Simply pressing the foot lever makes the change.

The foot drop provided on this planter is of special use in hill dropping with the foot; also when planting rows at the ends of the field.

Plants Many Varieties of Corn

Seed plates can be furnished for handling practically any kind of corn; also sorghum, milo, maize and other seeds.

The improved form of cut-off has a quick action. The spring knocker causes each kernel to be discharged upon the valve without fail.

There are no ridges or obstructions in the valves to catch and hold the kernels. Sufficient opening is left just above the upper valve to enable operator to see the kernels as they are collected for the hill.

Due to Scarcity Farm Labor,
Says Secretary of American Farm Bureau.

Springfield, May 10.—At the third
New England conference of Farm Bureaus held in the Auditorium in this city today, E. B. Cornwell, president of the Vermont Federation of Farm Bureaus, declared that publicity is the greatest need of the farmer. T. B.
Putnam of the New Hampshire Association said that people ought to be informed regarding the work of farm bureaus.
A New England publicity bureau,
it was thought should be established to cover the six States.
J. W. Coverdale, secretary of the American Federation of Farm Bureaus, spoke on the work of the federation in Iowa, where the farmers are said to be the best organized of any State in the union. They have 120,000 life members secured at $5 each. He said in part:
"The United States is facing the biggest food shortage it has ever known. In my own state of Iowa, help is so scarce that no more than 15 per cent of the corn and other grain acreage will be seeded down. This has not come about through a refusal of the grain growers to pay high wages. They are offering as high as $115 a month with board and washing and are totally unable to get men.
"I am informed that in New York State thousands of farms will not be worked this year because of a shortage of help, the situation is Nationwide. It is just as serious in live-stock throughout the Middle West I have had reports that the shrinkage in pork production will be from 20 to 25 per cent. This is due to a slump in the price for hogs at a time when grain was still high. This led the breeders to sacrifice their breeding stock and there is nothing in the present condition to induce them to make extra efforts to build up again.
"The shortage of help is the chief cause of this dropping off in production. In Iowa alone we are short 10,000 men for farm labor."

PRESIDENTS HAVE BEEN RECIPIENTS ODD GIFTS.

Early presidents of the United States received strange gifts during their terms as executives, the strangest sent to Thomas Jefferson, with the admiring inscription, "the greatest est of them all being, perhaps the cheese in America for the greatest man in America." It was conveyed to Washington by a six-horse team.
Jefferson insisted upon paying for it, and it lasted for a whole year.
Andrew Jackson was the recipient of such gifts as a whole hog from Kentucky, whisky from Pennsylvania beef from New York and a cheese that weighed half a ton or more from New England. The Blue room in the White House contains the most famous of the gifts received by American presidents, the golden mantel clock presented to Washington by Lafayette, who received it from Napoleon. In the Green room is the Gobelin tapestry, made by a process which is now a lost art, which the Emperor of Austria gave Mrs. Grant.

resulting from the strike. The situation is exceedingly critical among the publishers of magazines and newspapers all over the country.

SOIL CULTIVATION MAKES BETTER CORN YIELDS

Cultivation Has Three Objects. Need to Conserve Labor and Land.

Farm labor is scarce this year, and yields are likely to suffer unless available labor is utilized to the best advantage.

Unnecessary or misdirected cultivation is always a serious waste, but it is particularly so when man power is not adequate to crop requirements.

Make all labor count at full value. In cultivating the corn crop say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, use a two-row cultivator if possible. It consumes only half as much man labor as a one-row cultivator and only one-fourth as much as the half-row cultivator or double shovel.

Cultivate when cultivation is needed, but refrain when it is not needed. Cultivation may be a waste of time or actually injurious under certain conditions. Cultivation by a hard-and-fast rule is likely to do more harm than good. Government corn specialists give the following general principles as to time and manner of cultivating corn:

Cultivation Has Three Objects.

There are three main purposes of cultivation—to store moisture, to destroy weeds, to warm the soil.

Keep the soil surface loose and open. This will let the rain soak in quickly and reduce waste. In fair weather it will prevent the subsoil from drying out. A properly cultivated soil will send moisture, laden with plant food, up through the corn roots and stalks to make ears.

Every weed in a cornfield is an enemy. It drinks up moisture and consumes plant food that should go to make corn kernels instead of weed seed. Destroy weeds when they appear. Attack them, if possible, in fair weather. You will then have the sun as a powerful ally.

Evaporation of moisture lowers temperature. A wet, evaporating soil surface is cold. A dry soil surface dries quickly and the blanket of loose, dry soil then checks evaporation, drains in sunshine, and becomes warm.

Watch your soil—its condition should determine when to cultivate. Do not let cracks form. They are holes through which valuable moisture escapes. Do not cultivate when your ground is dry or wet enough to form large clods. Clods tie up plant food so that the corn roots can not use it.

Watch Soil And Plants.

Do not waste cultivation. Cultivation may be actually injurious when your soil is so dry and hard as to break into large dry clods.

Failure to cultivate promptly when it is needed to prevent the soil from becoming cracked, hard, or weedy will materially lessen the corn yield. In addition to watching the soil, water the plants. Their progress determines how you should cultivate.

While the plants are small, cultivate as deeply as the condition of the soil makes necessary. If your seed bed was not well prepared before planting deep cultivation when the corn is small is desirable. Get your soil into open condition so that the corn roots can reach out for food.

After the plants become a foot high, shallow cultivation only should be given. The roots have spread out close under the surface of the soil and would be injured by deep cultivation. Never cultivate deeply close to corn plants after they are a foot high. Such cultivation will break feeding roots and cause injury to the plants.

Conserve Labor And Land.

Corn is the main support of the Nation. Grown in every State of the Union, it exceeds any other crop in acreage, production, value, and multiplicity of uses.

When land and labor were abundant, production could be increased to meet increasing demands by planting more acres to corn. But the demands for corn are still increasing while available labor is decreasing. The only way to increase production is to make each acre yield more bushels of corn.

The average yield of corn per acre in the United States is about 27 bush-

He says he has driven hundreds of miles, bareheaded, when the thermometer registered 10 degrees or more below zero, but has never frozen his ears and never had a cold in the head or a headache.

The Government is selling in Philadelphia a complete outfit of outer clothes for women for $39, including: One pair of brown leather shoes, $3.50; one wool suit (skirt and coat), $20; one long wool coat, $15; one hat 50 cents. THREE-FOURTHS OF MARRIED WOMEN ARE WAGE EARNERS.

In a survey of family incomes in nearly one hundred cities in the United States, the Department of Labor found that in Johnstown, N. Y., three-quarters of the wives earn money. The Labor Review explains that this remarkable condition prevails in Johnstown because glove making is the principal industry there and furnishes work which women can do at home. This appeals to them because they are able to earn good wages without leaving their households.

In almost one-sixth of the New York City homes visited women contributed earnings toward the support of the home. In Boston, one wife out of ten works; in Buffalo one in twenty-eight; in Cleveland and Cincinnati one in seven; and in Pittsburgh one in fifty. It is interesting to note that investigators found that a surprisingly large percentage of town dwellers derive some income from gardens and poultry. Ninety-three per cent of those visited in Cleveland had a garden or chickens.—Thrift Magazine.

RESULTS IF EVERYONE STOPPED BUYING.

To The New York Sun and Herald: With regard to the letter signed "S", and several others of very similar import to the effect that everybody should stop buying in order to bring down prices, would it not be only just and fair as well as a natural sequence that when this is carried into effect everybody should also stop paying salaries and wages and rents?

The monkey wrench thus thrown into the fine mechanism of the industrial machinery would produce a surprising result similar to that brought about when Samson pulled down the house to revenge himself on his enemies and himself perished in the act.

If everybody did stop buying for a few months all goods would be very much cheaper—fine! But would anybody by that time have any money to buy these goods?

That is also a not to be neglected point to be considered. L. New York, May 3.

AGED MAN CLAIMS RECORD

New Hampshire Nonagenarian Still Able to Swing Ax Both Lustily and Expertly.

Friends of Frank Mozrall, ninety, of Franklin, N. H., claim that he is the champion woodchopper of his age in the New England states. Despite his near approach to the century mark he is able to swing an ax with the best of the choppers of the New Hampshire woods, those who know him best say.

Mr. Mozrall was formerly a hotel man. Since his retirement a favorite pastime of his has been to walk a distance of five miles from the home of his niece to a wood lot and there chop wood. It is claimed that he cut almost five cords of wood in a week, which is considered a record for a man anywhere near Mr. Mozrall's age.

Mr. Mozrall helped to build the first bridge path from the Profile to the summit of Mount Lafayette, and was one of the best-known guides in the mountains years ago. He has guided some of the best-known people of the country in their explorations of the White mountains. It is only recently that he has come into fame as a wood-chopper.

Mr. Mozrall's memory is most excellent and his general health is exceptionally good for a man of his advanced years.—Boston Post.

Kitchener's Dog.

Lord Kitchener's favorite dog, which he left in the hands of Admiral Grant before embarking on the cruiser Hampshire, is believed to have become a good Australian. Admiral Grant, who has been appointed first naval member of the Australian naval board, brought Kitchener's pet to the Commonwealth on board the battle cruiser Australia. Ordinarily the Commonwealth does not encourage the landing of cats and dogs from overseas, but Australia holds Kitchener in such dear memory that one may safely conjecture that exception will be made in this instance.

Short jackets and tastefully applied braid trimming are featured in the new spring suits. A compromise between coat and jacket appears in the model shown above in which the coat ends at the front with the braided girdle but is the usual length at the back.

TO SERVE SUNDAY NIGHT.

For Sunday night lunch try this sandwich. It will be liked by all to whom the flavor of American cheese is agreeable.

Metropolitan Sandwiches. ½ pound cheese, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 3 hard cooked eggs, 3 tablespoons cider vinegar, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon salt.

Mash yolks, add butter, salt, pepper, and mustard, and mix until smooth. Grate cheese or put through a food chopper; chop whites of eggs. Mix all thoroughly, stir in vinegar, and spread between three or four thin slices of buttered bread; press together, and cut in long, narrow strips.

TESTED EGG RECIPES THAT ARE GOOD AND SAVE THE MEAT BILL.

Now that eggs are a little more plentiful and comparatively reasonable in price they can provide a welcome variation in the family diet. In many families eggs are seldom served except at breakfast, but they furnish just as many possibilities for delectable dishes for luncheon or supper as they do for breakfast. They can well take the place of a meat dish, for, like meat they furnish protein, fat, and mineral matter and the yolk is also a good source of vitamin. A few recipes for attractive dishes suitable to serve in place of meat for the midday or evening meal follow. These recipes were tested in the experimental kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Shirred Eggs With Rice.

Fill a baking dish half full of hot boiled rice. Break six eggs and carefully drop them in the rice, taking care not to break the yolks. Pour a cup of cheese sauce over the eggs and rice and bake in a moderate oven until the whites of the eggs are set.

To make the cheese sauce: Melt 1 tablespoon of butter and stir into it 1 tablespoon of flour, 1 teaspoon of salt, and ¼ teaspoon of white pepper. Add 1 cup of cold milk, and stir over the flame until thick and creamy. Add 4 tablespoons of grated cheese and stir until melted.

Creole Eggs.

Hard cook 6 eggs. Cook ½ cup washed rice in 2 quarts of boiling water containing 1 teaspoon of salt.

Make a sauce in the following way: Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a skillet and add 4 tablespoons of chopped onions. Cook until the onion is soft, but not brown. Add 1½ cups of canned tomatoes and 2 finely chopped green peppers, and ½ teaspoon of salt. Cook for 15 minutes. Place a layer of boiled rice in a baking dish, cover with slices of hard-cooked eggs and cover the sliced eggs with creole sauce. Repeat until baking dish is full. Grate cheese over the top and bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Eggs Coddled in Tomato Sauce.

Make a tomato sauce by melting 2 tablespoons of butter and stirring into it 3 tablespoons of flour, ½ teaspoon of celery salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, and 2 teaspoons of salt. Strain 2 cups of tomato pulp and juice through a sieve and add to the butter and flour. Cook until thickened. Place one-half of the tomato sauce in a baking dish, break 6 eggs, one at a time, and carefully slide each egg into the sauce, taking care not to break the yolks. Cover with the remaining sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese, and bake in the oven until the egg is set. It is well to serve each egg on a round of toasted bread, or each may be baked in an individual ramekin if preferred.

Omelet With Croutons.

A well-made omelet or soufflé is a dish that tempts most people. Try bread into 1-3 inch cubes; fry in butter this omelet with croutons for variety.

Make croutons by cutting stale bread into cubes and well browned. Beat 5 eggs slightly, add 4 tablespoons of cream or milk, ¼ teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and the browned croutons. Put 2 tablespoons of butter in a hot omelet pan, and when the butter is melted and hot turn in the mixture. As it cooks prick and pick up with a fork until the whole is of a uniform, creamy consistency. Increase the heat and brown quickly underneath, then fold and turn on a hot platter; garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve.
